W. J. BOYCOTT DIES UNEXPECTEDLY AT LOS ANGELES CAL.

FORMER LA CROSSE BUSINESS MAN EXPIRES

BODY IS SENT TO LA CROSSE

WAS WELL KNOWN IN THE

BURIED WIFE HERE RECENTLY

Deceased Conducted Printing Establishment and Hotel Here Until He Went West for His Health

John C. Burns this morning received a telegram from Los Angeles announcing the death of Walter J.
Boycott, formerly of this city at that place yesterday and asking that independent Order of Foresters, the Equitable Fraternal union and the National union, Washburn council, be notified and identify the body when it arrives in the city.

Mr. Boycott, who was a man of about 48 years of age, left La Crosse about six years ago, going to California for his health. Soon after arriving there he improved greatly and he was supposed to be in the best of health by friends in La Crosse, although a few who were in close communication with him had received word a few weeks ago that his condition was poorly but not considered serious. Since living in the west Mr. Boycott has been connected with several mercantile enterprises and according to friends who had met him was one of the successful men in the country.

Was Head of Boycott Printing Co.
He was born in La Crosse and spent most of his life here, having been educated in the local schools and for a number of years was in partnership with his father in the Boycott Printing company at Front and Main streets. About ten years ago he purchased the interests of his father and continued the business in connection with the Boycott hotel that he established. About six years ago he sold out to the Momney & Co., printers, and went west, located at Los Angeles. The establishment was later purchased by Messrs. Shertz & Wiltz of Rock Island, who finally sold out to the present Inland Printing company.

Mr. Boycott, since leaving La Crosse has made several visits to the city, his last visit being about a year and a half ago, when he buried his wife in the Oak Grove cemetery. He is survived by several children, now located in the west.

While in La Crosse Mr. Boycott took an active interest in lodge and fraternal work and was a member of several lodges and fraternal organizations.

No funeral arrangements will be made until the body arrives in La Crosse although it will be under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias or the Foresters.

MARSE HENRY TELLS HOW BRYAN CAN WIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Let the negro make peace with the old master class in the south. That's the road to race pacification.

This was the message that Col.
Henry Watterson sent from Kentucky today to deliver to the colored men of the nation.

The colonel declares that Mr. Bryan has an excellent chance to win through the Brownsville incident.

"The changing of the negro vote from the republican to the democratic columns in New York, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois," he said, "would mean the loss of these states to the republican ticket, and the same is true of other states."

BLACKHAND NOTES UNHEEDED; IS SLAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Following the receipt of two black letters, Michael Diaplunto, a well-to-do Italian was murdered in his shop by an unknown man at 8 this morning. Dia-plunto, who is the proprietor of the Italian barber shop, was at work in his shop, when a stranger suddenly threw open the door and shot him dead, slammed the door and then fled.

MASKED MEN DYNAMITE BANK

MONTREAL, Canada, Aug. 29.— Five masked men dynamited the safe of the Provincial bank at Steushe, 10 miles from Montreal, and secured $12,000 today. They held the caretaker and kept a posse of cops at bay with revolvers and escaped to Montreal. Two arrests have been made on suspicion.

LITTLE JOURNEYS TO SUMMER HOMES OF PROMINENT PEOPLE

Old Neglected Summer Home of Mrs. Hetty Green at Bellows Falls, Vt., Latest Snapshot of Hetty Green

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt., Aug. 29.

—Of all the eccentric people in the United States, Mrs. Hetty Green, the wealthiest woman in the world, stands champion. This modern creature with her vast property wealth and ready cash spends her summer vacation in a dilapidated and neglected old home at Bellows Falls, Vt., in the midst of a factory district, where the smoke is so thick that it frequently cuts off the sun's rays from her diminutive lawn. Just why she sees fit to take her meager vacation here while her wealth would afford an opportunity to live in luxury at any American or European resort, is a problem hard to solve.
So far as is known she has no particular liking for the town of Bellows Falls, although she has stated that at some time she expects to permanently reside here. It is said by some that one reason for her doing this is that the property is unsalable and as she owns it she feels she must get some value out of it and therefore takes this means of getting value received.

The Green house was formerly a splendid type of the old colonial building, but it is now the most ill-appearing of the dwellings along Church street.

Finds Big Accumulation After Trip Through the West; Taft Addresses Veterans

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 29.—Bryan found himself nearly buried under an avalanche of important correspondence when he arose today. It was the accumulation of the past eight days, during which time he had been touring the west.

He leaves Lincoln at 6 Sunday night for St. Paul, where he speaks Monday afternoon at 6, at the grounds of the Minnesota state fair association.

It is understood that Bryan will meet Johnson and that the latter's lieutenants at that city and plans for pushing the campaign in Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas will be outlined.

Taft Talks to Vets.

ATHENS, O., Aug. 29.—Taft, during a brief stay here, made a ten minute non-partisan speech at the reunion of the veterans of the Civil and Spanish Wars. Following the speech, Mr. and Mrs. Taft took luncheon at the house of former Congressman Grosvenor before resuming the journey to Toledo and Middle Bass Island.

He said in part: "Meetings of this kind evoke expressions of the deepest patriotism and to the younger men, upon whom must fall the responsibilities of government, such meetings with the speeches and patriotic feeling they arouse are an inspiration."

"But what I wish to emphasize here is that the life lost, or health lost in the war in the Philippines, entitles the loser to exactly the same gratitude that the country feels toward those who lost their lives or health in the civil war. They sacrificed themselves for the maintenance of the benignant policy of this country toward the people of the Philippines, insuring for them a higher civilization and the opportunity to fit themselves for popular government."

MAYOR PROCLAIMS BALL HOLIDAY

BASEBALL FANS TO HAVE GALA DAY WEDNESDAY

PEOPLE URGED TO ATTEND

Home Team Needs Support and Mayor Asks Citizens to Turn Out and Boost the Game

MAYOR ANDERSON this morning issued the proclamation for a civic holiday next Wednesday, Merchants' day, at the League baseball park.

The declaration follows:

"At the last meeting of the common council the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, by the common council of the city of La Crosse, that the mayor be requested to declare a half holiday on the afternoon of September 2nd, 1903, and invite all business houses to close their places of business, so far as practicable, and the proprietors and their employees be urged to attend the game of ball on that day."

"Pursuant to the above the mayor hereby declares the afternoon of September 2nd a civic holiday and respectfully requests the public generally to observe the same so far as may be in their power and encourage the managers of the La Crosse Baseball club by a large attendance at League park on that day. The city offices will be closed at 12 o'clock noon on the date above stated for the balance of the day."

"WENDELL A. ANDERSON."

The committee in charge of the work is progressing rapidly with the arrangements for the biggest day in the history of baseball in La Crosse.
Freepoint will be the opponent of La Crosse on that day and as the Pretzels are strong contestants for second place honors the game promises to be fast and furious. The complete arrangements have not as yet been completed but will be announced Monday.

CHILD'S FUNERAL TOMORROW.

The funeral of little Lillian Herman will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 829 South Third street.

HATTON SURE, AND PANIC INVADERS THE STEPHENSON CAMP

LAVISH USE OF MONEY CAUSES A REACTION

SAME OLD BLUNDER IS MADE

MONEY TALKS TOO LOUD—SPOONER HURTS "IKE"

MR. LUSH IS CONFIDENT

Former La Crosse Man Declares Voters Cannot Be Fooled By Openly Purchased Support

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Fear has invaded the Stephenson senatorial camp. The bosses there feel that the battle is not to the financially strong, as they had hoped, and confidential talks in which they have indulged have transpired in which it is made plain that their alarm is not an empty "hunch," but is based upon material facts.

Money Stunt Overdone.

The cause of the present panic among the Stephenson men is caused by reports reaching headquarters here from many quarters that a reaction has set in among those who had lined up with the Stephenson movement. The dollar mark has done its work. The flamboyant billboard exploitation of the aged lumberman as the "Grand Old Man," the unprecedented purchase of newspaper space, and the alignment with the Stephenson forces of the class of men throughout the state who are notoriously the agents of the corporations and money-king politicians in all their undertakings, has put the stamp of fraud indelibly upon the whole Stephenson dollar-dominated program.

Cook Is Hurting.

Another thing that has added to the uneasiness is the activity of the Cook campaigners, the rumor that ex-Senator Spooner is back of Cook seeking to defeat Stephenson, having an ominous sound.

Mr. Spooner, to the whose defeat he attributes to the animosity-inspired financial work of Stephenson, is said to have declared Stephenson's deed unforgivable, and to have actively engaged in drawing the stalwart vote from Stephenson to Cook, a genuine all-time stalwart.
So, while their efforts to detract from Hatton's support by securing half-breed support for McGovern has had little effect, the Stephenson men feel that Mr. Spooner has actually done to their man the very injury they have failed to do Hatton, the New London man having made material progress in spite of their poorly managed flank movement. Hatton men are more confident of his success with every passing day, while the Stephenson leaders cannot conceal their growing feeling that the "jig is up."

Hatton Men Confident

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—After a general review of the situation the Hatton leaders are enjoying a feeling of easy security today. Reports from all over the state indicate that the Stephenson money-campaign has reacted, the expenditures being so great and apparent as to create suspicion in the minds of voters everywhere. Regarding the outlook Charles K. Lush, one of the Hatton leaders, said today:

Charles K. Lush, Pleased

"The victory we anticipated from the start seems more than ever sure today. It has not at any time seemed possible that the people of Wisconsin, after its splendid record as a progressive state, would consent to send to the senate for a long and important term an aged man whose years disqualify him for the great service which his reactionary conduct in the last session mark him as being as unwilling as he is incapable of performing."

"The strength of Mr. Hatton's position is his public record, and his indisputable qualifications. In an intelligent state no man can acquaint himself as creditably as Mr. Hatton has done without being known for what he is, and as a consequence we have been under no necessity of convincing the voters of his eminent qualifications. He has been recognized all through this campaign, as he was recognized before the last legislature, as the logical candidate of the progressive republicans of Wisconsin. Surface indications support our belief that the people have settled upon Mr. Hatton as the man to make senator."

PRESIDENT'S CALLERS.

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 29.—Baron Takakura, the Japanese ambassador to the United States, called on the president today. Other visitors to Sagamore Hill were Willet M. Hays, assistant secretary of agriculture, and Herbert Myrick, editor of the Agriculturist.

W. H. HATTON A MAN OF NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS

Senator W. H. Hatton, candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States senatorship, is a man of high attainment. He is a scholarly gentleman, dignified, able, experienced in legislation, and possessing in a high degree the eminent qualifications for the high office to which he aspires.

Mr. Hatton, in the state senate, saved the taxpayers of this state over $4,000,000 by forcing through the legislature a bill withdrawing from entry the public pine lands which other lumbermen were grabbing at song prices.

Mr. Hatton lent valuable service in the adjustment of the war claims of the state of Wisconsin against the federal government, which resulted in placing at the disposal of our taxpayers in the state treasury about a million and a half of dollars.

Mr. Hatton pushed the railroad law through the legislature in the face of violent opposition calculated to defeat it, accomplishing by his tact and executive ability an end which the Free Press, Mr. Stephenson's paper, declared "no other man in the state could have done."

CORPORATIONISTS RUNNING CAMPAIGN

SEVEN OF NINE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEEMEN TRUST AGENTS

ATTACK REPUBLICAN REFORM

First Chapter in Democratic Campaign Book Indicates Harriman is Behind Mr. Taft

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The democratic national committee today made public a chapter of the forthcoming campaign text book, devoted to an attack on "Republican Guardians Reform" in general, and William Nelson Cromwell, E. H. Harriman's legal adviser, in particular. The statement charges that Cromwell succeeded Harriman, his employer, as the "official fat fryer" for the republican party.

It charges that when Taft was about to select Congressman McKinley of Illinois as treasurer of the national committee, he received a telegram from Cromwell, requesting that the selection be deferred until he could call on Taft. The following day, the statement says, Cromwell arrived at Hot Springs and was closed with Taft. The result of the visit was that McKinley was shelved and George R. Sheldon, himself a corporation man, was chosen.

The democrats charge that seven members of the republican executive committee of nine, appointed to conduct the campaign, are corporation men, headed by Cromwell.

mine his mental status.

DYING VICTIM OF SHOOTING PRESSED FOR AN ADMISSION

MORTEM STATEMENT

CHARLES ROBERTS WILL DIE

WOMAN WITH HIM WHEN SHOT IS SHADOWED BY DEECTIVES

HER SECLUSION SIGNIFICANT

Authorities Notice That Mrs. Williams Makes No Effort to Communicate With Husband

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 29.—A report from the bedside of Chas. B.
Roberts, victim of the board walk mystery, is to the effect that the Baltimore millionaire's condition took a decided turn for the worst this afternoon, and death is probably but a few hours off.

This information has caused the police to redouble their efforts to make the arrest before Roberts' death. It is probable an ante-mortem statement will be taken from the man this afternoon, and an effort will be made to get him to admit that he knows his assailant, even though he declines to disclose the latter's identity.

Williams Shadowed

Although no arrests have been made both Mrs. W. S. G. Williams, who occupied the chair with Roberts at the time of the shooting and her husband, the millionaire Baltimore club man, are virtual prisoners. Both are being shadowed by detectives, who are prepared to prevent any movement on their part detrimental to the officers' plan for getting at the bottom of the mystery.

The police are attaching considerable significance to the fact that since the shooting no effort has been made by Williams to see his wife, or by his wife to see him.

Jesse Williams, the negro chair pusher, already is badly muddled by cross examinations and promises to furnish evidence on which an arrest can be made in twenty-four hours.

Statements of the negro today caused the police to admit they are bending all efforts toward pinning Williams down to a statement of his whereabouts at the hour of the shooting.

ABOUT DEFECTS IN PUBLIC SERVICE

No sensible manager of any kind of public service has any desire to "duck complaints." In fact, the really far-sighted man welcomes useful criticisms and suggestions. The attitude of the Wisconsin Telephone Company in such matters is to analyze any kind of "trouble" that is brought to its attention and to promptly apply a remedy.

Good telephone service is, in the eyes of the Wisconsin Company's management, the kind of service that best suits telephone users. While the work of an exchange may be excellent from an engineering point of view, it may seem faulty to the public in some respect. There is no way the company can detect many of these apparent defects unless it is told about them, and if they are real the company is anxious to prevent their recurrence.

Apparent defects in service should be reported to the manager immediately when the occasion arises. The volume of traffic passing through an exchange hour by hour is so great that it is often hard to trace a particular call any length of time after it is made.

The La Crosse team returned home yesterday and opened in much the same manner they did on their last victory No. 1 in their belt and made it victory No. 1 in their belt and made it No. 2 yesterday by defeating the Rockford tailenders by the score of 2 to 0. They have got a record of 11 straight victories to beat and have settled down to create a sensation in the league.

The game was won, as usual, in the first inning, and it was mighty lucky for the Colts that they took advantage of the Reds in the early stages of the game, as from that time on only one man registered at first, this in the third inning when Duchien beat out a bunt. After that it was simply Palmer. He had the "kibosh" on the Colts at all times, and at no time did it look dangerous for a higher score. Watson, the southpaw, of the La Crosse team, was in perfect form and administered a thick coat of whitewash over the Reds. Four hits were taken from his delivery, but were scattered over as many innings and did not appear effective. Only once during the entire game did it look dubious for the Colts, this in the first inning when La Crosse started out with a couple of errors.

Kaphan was the first man to bat and hit to Bond, who was playing third base in the absence of Bues, who is on the sick list. Bond recovered the ball, but pegged wild and Kaphan was safe at first. O'Leary was next up and bunted to Watson, who threw wild to Becker, giving both runners the advantage of bases.

On the next play, however, Rorabaugh hit to Watson, who threw Kaphan out at third and then Harms hit to Becker, who threw O'Leary out at second. Corkhill retired the side on a grounder to Tracey. In the third inning the Reds got their first hit when Hickey hit through Eberle, but he was short lived as Jerry Harms in a beautiful throw caught him trying to steal second. In the next inning Harms drove for two bases but Watson tightened up and retired the side without allowing Harms to advance to third. In the seventh and eighth innings respectively, Clark and Palmer secured singles, but died on the first sack in need of a hit by their teammates.

La Crosse took advantage of Palmer in the first inning. After Graves had been given a pass Tracey tried to sacrifice, but beat it out and then Duchien sacrificed both runners. Safford drove to deep center, scoring Graves, but Tracey was a little slow and was thrown out at the plate. Bond followed with a hit scoring Safford, who went to third on a passed ball by Hickey. Harms retired the side on a fly to right garden. In the next inning they failed to reach first, but in the third Duchien beat out a bunt and was the last man to register on the sack.

It was a pretty battle between Watson and Palmer. The latter was slightly more effective in the latter part of the game but his weakness in the first was disastrous. Watson played a steady game and held the Reds down at all times. In the fourth and fifth innings Palmer struck out five consecutive men, and secured the only strikeouts in the game.

DOPE BOX.
The Reds again today and for the third straight victory.

Red Moore, the ex-Colt and present member of the Reds, was welcomed back to the city and was given a royal reception. Red is one of the standbys with the fans.

Bues was out of the game yesterday on account of injuries but expects to be in the game again today. Bond covered third while Eberle went to second.

Claude Elliott, former member of the New York Giants and now throwing for the Indianapolis team, was a witness at the game yesterday. His home is at Pardeeville and he accompanied the team here.

Umpire Guthrie gave about the best decisions that have been seen here for a long time. There was not a decision disputed during the entire game.

There were 342 at the game yesterday, but 145 of these were ladies taking advantage of "Ladies' day." Kaphan, Harms and Red Moore, a trio of Rockford players, make more noise than the bleachers.

Bond, Eberle and Tracey assisted in two double plays that were about the clearest seen on the diamond this year.

Red Moore substituted Rorabaugh in the second inning. Red insisted on getting into the game against La Crosse.

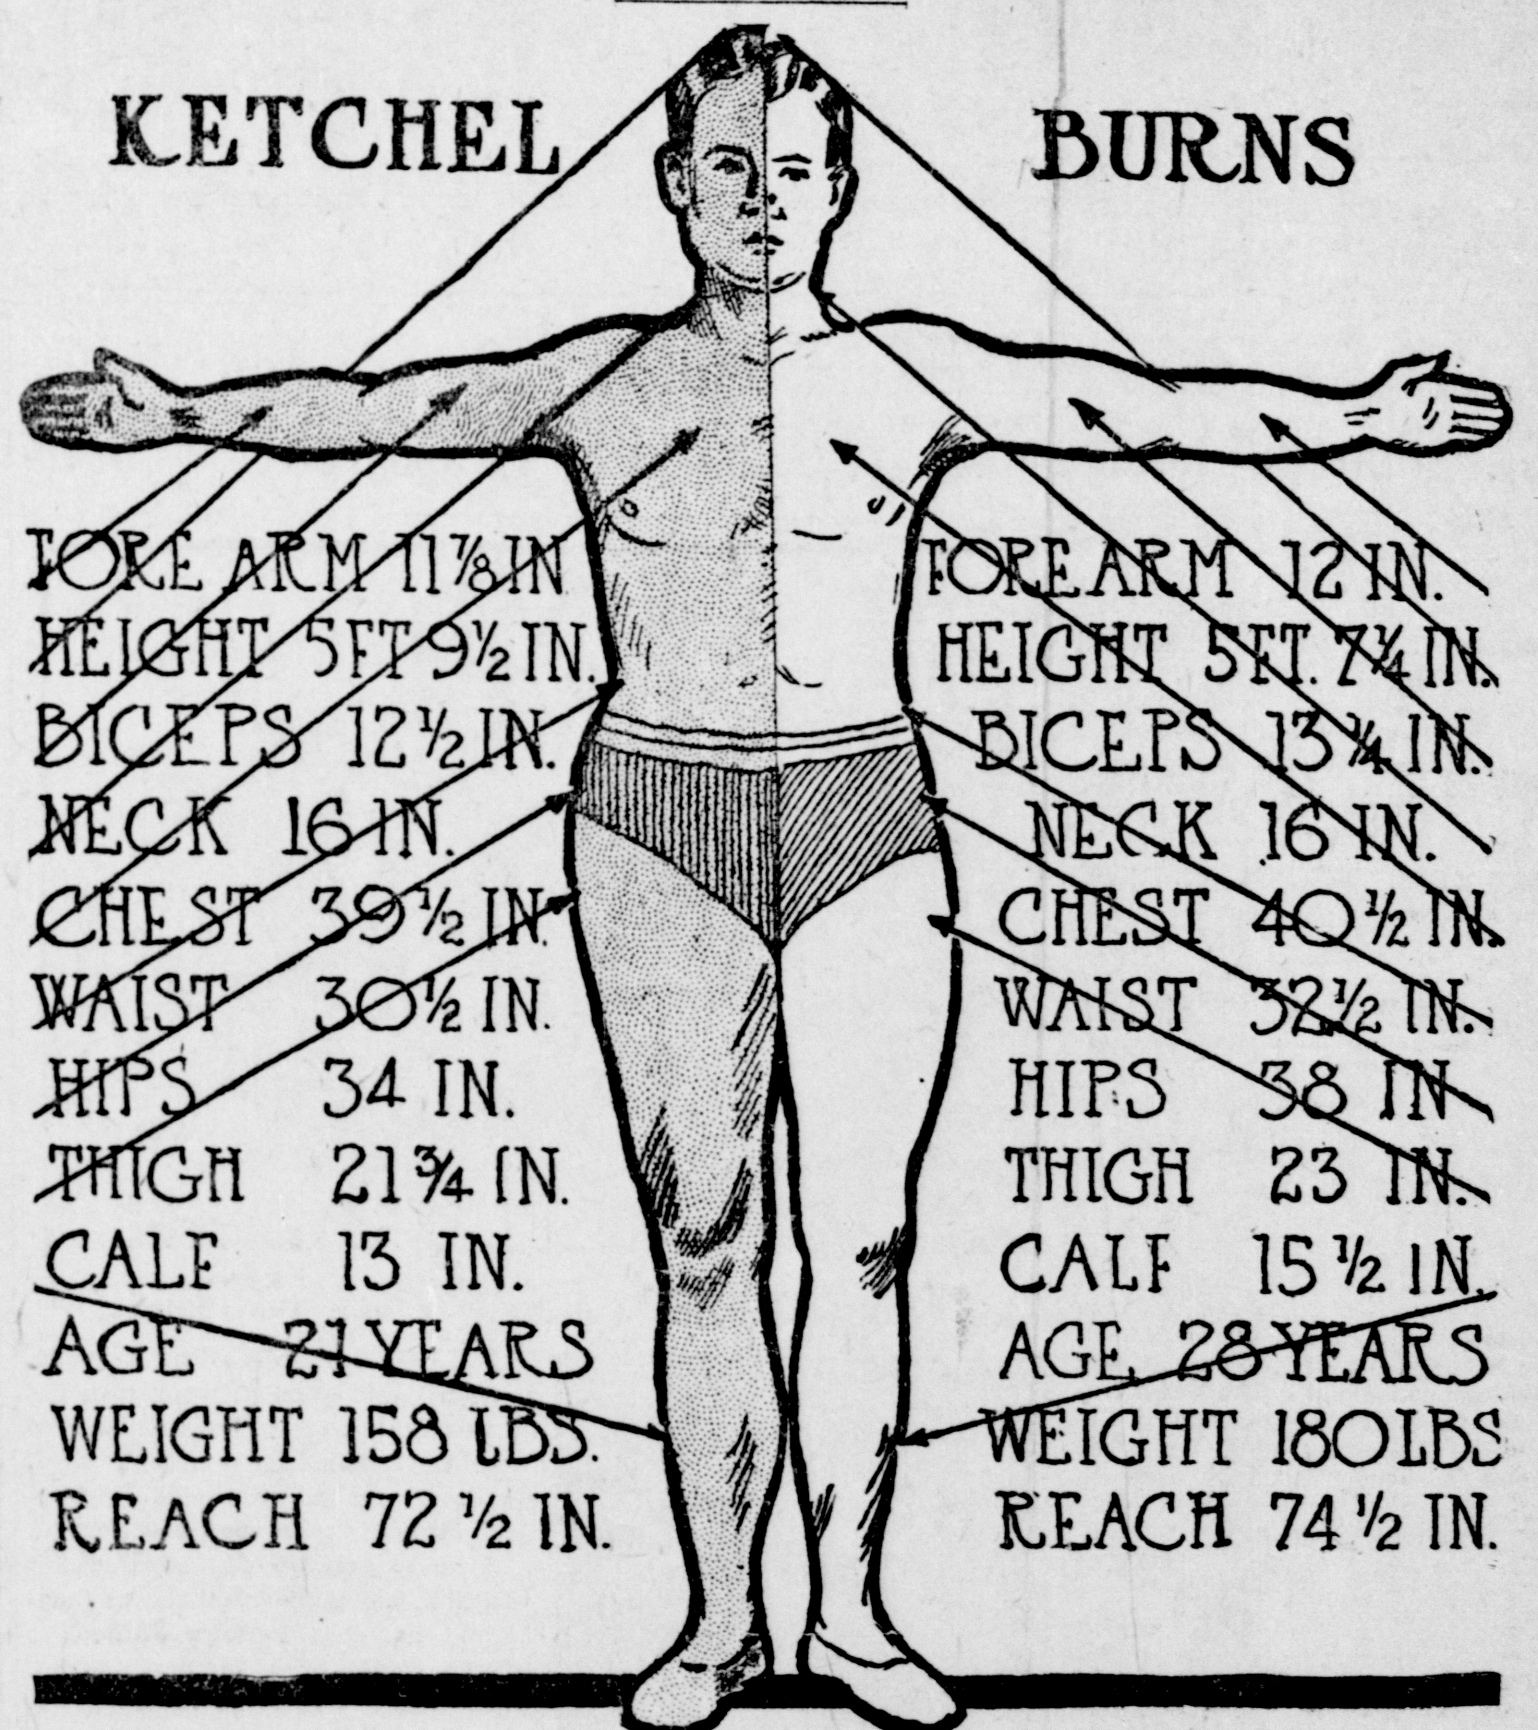

Jones is due to work against the Reds today.

The oft repeated prediction that Ketchell is fast outgrowing, both in quality and weight, the middleweight class, has led close friends of Ketchell to believe that no fighter short of Tommy Burns will ever satisfy the husky Grand Rapids youth. Ketchell is a classic in build. History of the ring does not record a more perfect figure in grace or development. It will be seen by the comparison that Burns outmeasures Ketchell in nearly every respect except height. Burns is undoubtedly the better developed athlete of the two, although Ketchell is seven years younger and has a bull dog's determination, never knowing when he is licked. He has just signed up with Papke for a Labor day fight at Jim Jeffries' club and if he wins this, as his friends on the coast are confident he will, it will be the end practically of his attainment in the middleweight class. He will undoubtedly fight many more fights in this class and expects by close training to develop himself along with adding weight, so that by the time he should enter the ring with Burns he will have the additional 2 1/4 inches in height and will otherwise outmeasure Ketchell fight and studied his active, lithe figure. When Ketchell meets Burns, if he ever does it will be the greatest fight in recent years. It is claimed by many men who have seen Ketchell fight and studied his system that he is the only man in the world who can give Tommy Burns a fight for his money.

FOR SUNDAY THOUGHT.

There is, we believe, no sacrifice in suggesting that citizens can with propriety devote some thought on the Holy Sabbath Day to the serious duties of the coming week. We refer to the matter of nominations for public office, than which the people have no more important duty.

Republicans have been urged to nominate Isaac Stephenson, an aged and uncultured man, for the United States senate. He has spent a fortune hiring men and newspapers to urge his nomination. There is no argument for him that will stand up under the scrutiny of the logician. He has neither grace, culture, sympathy with the masses nor a clean record. His acts have been reactionary, and his conduct has been regulated to meet the approval of the coal trust and other corporations. His presence in the senate is a reflection upon the intelligence of the people of this state and a challenge to the sincerity of its boasted progressiveness.

We suggest that if you vote for W. H. Hatton, a scholar, experienced and able legislator, expert in economics, politically progressive, a man of dignity and refinement, you will have nothing for which to apologize.
With Hatton and La Follette in the senate this state could point with pride to a representation in the senior legislative body of the nation which is bound to contribute powerfully to the achievements of the national government.

One word of warning. The papers throughout the state that have been "induced" to support Mr. Stephenson are publishing great stories about how McGovern is ahead of Hatton.
Do not be deceived by this. It is a decoy. Hatton alone can beat Stephenson's money campaign, and the Stephenson papers, realizing this, are trying to start a McGovern bandwagon to pull votes away from Hatton, on the theory that every vote for McGovern means one less for Hatton, which equals one more for Stephenson.

Not less important to the state than is the election of a proper man for senator to the nation, is the selection of an able man to represent the First La Crosse district in the state assembly. The candidates are John E. McConnell and John Mulder, both of whom are well known to this public. La Crosse has but recently become a factor in state government, through the election to the senate and assembly of men who have lent dignity to the offices and have achieved things of importance for their constituents, and it is believed the people here are so well pleased with the result that they will declare themselves strongly in favor of a continuation of such representation.

We believe that voters who value intellectual force, progressive principles and dignified and efficient service in the assembly will vote for Mr. McConnell, especially in view of the fact that the ardent support given Mr. Mulder in some quarters strongly suggests an understanding between him and certain special interests, and because of the further fact that his election is regarded as part and parcel of a rumored plan of Mr.
Stephenson, in case his money fails to buy the primary victory, to attempt to "induce" legislative repudiation of the popular recommendation.

The Tribune is not of the opinion that there is much political importance attaching to the selection of county officials, the demands of such offices being purely of a practical business nature, and where aspirants for an office are about equally qualified we see no reason for taking the part of either. When, however, there is created by two opposing candidates the condition that voters are compelled to choose between two widely separated degrees of efficiency, it seems to become a journalistic duty to lend support to that candidate which promises to give the taxpayers the better service for their money. For this reason we have espoused the cause of C. H.
Rawlinson, candidate for county clerk. His unusual efficiency is recognized, and the effort to defeat him has assumed the form of a subtle appeal to sentiment. None recognize more fully than the publishers of this paper the debt the nation owes its veterans, but we protest that to pay that debt by placing them, regardless of competence, in our important public offices is a false public policy and a subversion of the rights and interests of the taxpayers. Mr. Cronon should be dealt with on his merits, just as should Mr. Rawlinson. It is no more right that Mr. Cronon should expect votes because he is a civil war veteran, than that Mr. Rawlin-son should expect votes because he is a Spanish-American war veteran, a thing the latter neither asks nor anticipates. We believe republicans, including Mr. Cronon's comrades, will agree with this idea, and we are positive the republican party has no intention of installing in our peaceful county courthouse a gentleman who has developed "incompatibility of temper" with almost every person with whom his official duties have brought him in contact. His unfortunate reputation in this community for carrying a chip on his shoulder challenges the possibility of his working in harmony with the other county officials. It is a splendid, a laudible thing to have been one's country's warrior, but it is a sad temperament which induces some men to walk through the piping times of peace looking for trouble, apparently oblivious of the fact that the war is over. We suggest strongly that, for the good of the service and in the interest harmonious and successful administration of the county's business, Mr. Rawlinson be returned to the office which he has so ably and so courteously occupied.

THE BIGGEST FISH STORY.

There is a difference between offering a prize for the biggest fish, and for the biggest fish story, and we are inclined, in the interest of abstract justice, to call the attention of the Toronto newspaper that has offered a prize for the largest black bass caught this season to the following parable:

"THE FISHERMAN."
"He arieth in the early morn and disturbeth the whole household."
"He goeth forth with his soul full of hope."

"He returneth when the day is far spent, smelling of strong drink, and the truth is not in him."

But, anyway, it will be interesting to Mississippi river fishermen to know that Canada had to come into Michigan to get its "biggest black bass," and that the Wolverine state produced one weighing 7½ pounds.
Of course we do not vouch for this, but the story is told with no great show of insincerity by the Record-Herald, and we welcome it as a distinct relief from the brand of campaign lies that have monopolized the efforts of our story-tellers. "Once upon a time," so the story goes:

"One of the Toronto papers is offering a prize for the largest black bass of the season. Whether the 7½ pounder that was caught in Michigan the other day could be entered in the competition if it were a native son of Canada we do not know because the description we read of that whaler was incomplete. Details were lacking concerning the style of mouth worm. This must be small to comply with the Toronto specifications.

"Fortunately the fishermen themselves are not thus limited even in Canada. They talk generously and have a spirit to correspond with what they say. But their great expectations are sometimes sadly disappointed by the scales. The reason is that almost any bass looks large to the angler. When he catches one that couldn't get credit for more than two pounds on scales honestly inspected his solemn judgment formed in the instant is that 3½ pounds would be about the right figure. Upon such an occasion the intrusion of scales is an inexcusable rudeness, but the record-breaker from Michigan claims to have stood the test.
He scorned to trust to his own eyes and hands and has witnesses who were in at the weighing and who are anxious to testify for the truth's sake.
Principal and accessories are devoted to the truth, and all the former asks is that his neighbors may believe his story."

"This jealous care for his reputation is admirable, and it is also a characteristic of fishermen generally. Even a rank outsider must be impressed by their earnestness and sincerity. It is an outrage that persons who take life and vacations so seriously should ever have their veracity questioned."

WHAT? NOT SENATE REFORM?

More rapidly than many people realize, the United States senate is being reformed. It is being converted from a corporation to a popular body.

One force at work for the accomplishment of this end appears to be the popular primary law as applied to the nomination of United States senators. During the last two years the passage of primary laws has resulted in the adoption of this method of choosing nominees in no less than twenty-seven states. This is more than half of the republic.

And the first tests of these laws are showing that it is not easy for the corporation man to stand against the popular primary. In Oregon, Fulton went down. In Kansas, Long gave way to Bristow. In South Dakota, Kittredge was defeated. In North Dakota, Hansbrough has the same kind of trouble to go against.
For many months Stone of Missouri has been trying to decipher the writing on the wall. Soon he will know his fate. The same is true of Heyburn of Idaho. Foraker is already in the discard. By a sort of unofficial indirect primary, Illinois, by the trifling plurality it gave him, has shown that it has no confidence in Hopkins, and the legislature may still relieve the senate of this shrewd and dangerous man. The people are finally on top in Iowa. Another year or so and Michigan will apply a primary to Burrows. And even New Jersey is getting ready to primary her senators.

With all this evidence of what her sister states are doing, are the people to permit Isaac Stephenson, who represents the power of Money in Politics, to be Progressive Wisconsin's contribution to Senate Reform?

Even if Wisconsin stumbles over the Bar, the movement will succeed, for it is in the right direction.
Cheer up! The rule of Aldrich, Elkins, Scott, Hale & Co. is drawing to a close.—Milwaukee Journal.

In reply to an appeal for vindication from a story circulated in Milwaukee that John Strange, candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor, had opposed the rate bill in the state legislature, Senator La Follette has wired Mr. Strange as follows:
"MADISON, Aug. 28, 1908.—
"Madison, Aug. 28, 1908.—
"Hon. John Strange, Menasha, Wis.
"Replying to your telegram calling attention to charges made that you opposed railroad rate legislation, will say that you came to Madison repeatedly while I was governor to as-ist in securing passage of rate law.
Few men in state rendered such valuable aid as you did in support of that and other important legislation in the public interest."
"ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE."

Democrats, we believe, can do no more consistent and sensible thing than nominate M. A. Hoyt for the United States senate. Mr. Hoyt is amply qualified for this high office, and has the advantage over his opponent of being an all-time progressive, in complete harmony with Mr.
Bryan and his purposes.

It is estimated that "Ike" Stephenson has paid $75,000 to secure newspaper and personal support for his senatorial candidacy. Mr. Voter, are you going to sell the United States senatorship?

If you were sending a man to guard your interests in a business convention, would you select John Mulder, or John McConnell?

Regarding "slapping people's mouths," it sounds like as how somebody was becoming exasperated.

SPOTLIGHTS

"The Wolf" Wednesday
Sam S. and Lee Shubert's production of "The Wolf," a drama of the Hudson Bay country, is said to be one of the greatest successes of the season. It deals with a rugged manhood of that far northern country which resists and defeats the plans of an adventurer among women. The cast is made up of the pick of the dramatic profession, and the Messrs.
Shubert take pleasure in offering at the La Crosse theater next Wednesday, Sept. 2, "The Wolf," with the following well known cast of players: Augustus Phillips, Jos. Greene, Alice Baxter, Escanillo Fernandez, William Norton, Harry Marshall and others.

I'm not mild or meek or lowly, lov-

I've a temper that is touchy, yet I wish it understood That I never, never lose it, undue license I refuse it;
I indulge in no strong language—they'd be trouble if I should.

Maledictions are forbidden; I must keep my choler hidden, I must stifle all emphatic words beginning with a "D."
Such as "dickens," "dence," "dar-

And even shun mild expletives like "jimmy" and "gee!"

Eschewed by me is lingo like "Great Scott!" and "jumping jingo!"
"Shucks!" and "sugar!" "fudge!" and "fiddle!" they are vocables taboo;
It would border upon folly to ejacu-

Or to seek relief in "ginger!"

A Diagnosis.

Prof. Koch, the famous investigator of sleeping sickness, said of an old fashioned doctor at a musical given by Andrew Carnegie in his honor in New York:

"Yes, Dr. Blank's methods were old-fashioned, prosy, pompous, nonsensical. You know, at Heidelberg they tell a story about him—a story in illustration of his way of working."

"A man, according to the story, fell over a cliff in an automobile and a steel bar eight feet long was run through his body so that three feet of the bar protruded from his stomach and three feet from his back."

"Dr. Blank was sent for. He looked at the spitted patient and said:
"What is the complaint?"
"It is in my stomach, sir," was the reply.

"How did it happen?"
"The man explained the accident in detail."

"Humph!" said Dr. Blank. "As to heredity, did any member of your family ever suffer a similar accident?"

"No, sir, none," the patient answered.

"Very good," said Dr. Blank. "You see, we acquire a knowledge of all these details in order to form a correct diagnosis. So far, so good."

"He looked at the patient thoughtfully."

"You find some difficulty in lying on your back?" he said.

"I can't lie on my back at all, sir."

"And I suppose you are no easier on the stomach?"

"Oh, no."

"In short," said Dr. Blank, "you are most comfortable on your side?"

"Yes, sir. That is the only position, to tell the truth, that I am able to maintain."

"Exactly," said the doctor, in a triumphant voice. "We have now only to settle upon the treatment. Here is the case in a nutshell: Either we leave the bar where it is, in which case inflammation will set in and you will probably die, or we extract it, an operation that is likely to prove fatal. Your fate, sir, is in your own hands. Please decide which course you will adopt."—Washington Star.

Will Remember His Friends

When Patrick McGinnagan became a member of the Chicago police force last week a delegation of his friends burst in upon him while he was at dinner and presented him with a handsome night stick in honor of his popularity and their esteem.

Completely bewildered by this unexpected token, the new policeman nevertheless struggled to his feet and stammered his appreciation.

"Friends, ye have upset me wid y'r kindness," he said, flourishing the night stick. "O'il try an' do me duty wid this little shillyan, and I hope an' trust that ivery man here'll live t' feel its influence!"

THE IRON LORD

A Hitherto Unpublished Story of Immense Power.
By
S. R. CROCKETT.
(Copyrighted.)

Still at intervals she blushed, as doubtless did the Rhodora—a plant of whose beauty we can only judge over here by pictures and the faded desiccations of museums—just because someone had seen her where she was. The watcher was not formidable. He was not even looking her way—an old man apparently, bending over a stick and letting himself slowly down the mountain side.
But Vida waited till he had passed away behind a clump of trees toward the Kirktown road. She breathed freely again, pulled a primrose to stick in her dress, surveyed it with her head on one side, decided that it was too short in the shank—besides which the color did not go with her complexion. Then she pulled a straw or two of the broom blossom with stalks that were long enough to be set in her belt, and retained a branch in her hand against the flies.
It was too early in the year, really, for flies, but it looked nice, and one never knows when one may need a weapon of some sort.

She was going to see Phil, since Phil had grown so cold—yes, and difficult. Well, perhaps, it had been her fault. It is not a bad thing to neglect your Phil a little on purpose.
If he goes off and plays with something or somebody else, then—if you care about him, it is time to take steps. And you will care about him as never before!

Perhaps that was why Vida's patience had been so long. Phil had only played with his mine.

Indeed he was looking at his balance-sheet when a certain shadow appeared among the trees by the window. It was a source of some considerable pride to him—this balance-sheet. For the first time Phil had had enough to pay the men, without calling upon the cheque-book of Mr.
Jacob Romer.

The old man had just been there.
He had said some kind words—going his way, however, with a sigh, because he felt that the time of his little providence was drawing to a close. He would soon, if all went well, be reaping where he had sown and gathering where he had sown.
Operations with which he was sufficiently familiar for them to have lost all novelty. His kind friends of the Incubus & Co. were quite wrong about him on this occasion.

But the figure, mounting higher on the sprinkled sunshine upon the long folio of paper which had earned the applause of Mr. Romer, startled Phil at his accounts. At last Vida was coming down the track of the sunbeams towards him out of the pine alleys—the same into which he had, ten minutes before, seen her father vanish.

She seemed a reward of merit.
Joyous, gay, the light of afternoon mist, and luminous about her, Vida was transfixed to the eyes of the young man. She smiled at him through the panes of glass—like the embodiment of a happier world. She seemed made for other destinies—to have her card filled first at a ball (Phil loathed balls), to garner as in a sheaf the applause of crowded theatres (Phil abhorred theatres).

Yet for all that she had come to see him, the yellow of the spring gold laid against the black of her hair, the green and yellow of the broom in her hand, no more pliant than her young body! Yet she smiled, and—was it a dream?—kissed her hand daintily to him through the meagre lattices of the little wooden building, half hot-half-office. Perhaps, Phil told himself it was, but the webs that the wood spiders had woven which he had watched themselves across his eyes, so that he failed to see clearly.

Yet he knew better—oh much better.

So much better that he never made a mistake, or thought that the girl meant more than she wished him to think she meant. Quick as a woman he knew, and, in addition, he had the gift of stating the case exactly to himself, which women lack.

"It is only pity," he said to himself—"yes, pity—not love. She is pitiful because she has treated me a little badly after—after all she knows—all I told her. She has come up to talk, simply and kindly, as I would have done to Rose Nuns-by, because her heart is empty."

He would have liked to add, "And I will fill it for her!"

But because he did not say so, nor yet think it his chance of doing so was so much the greater.

"Afternoon, Phil!" she cried in at the door in her quick, offhand manner. "Are you running the mill alone today? Where are all your grimy cohorters? I thought you were so busy saying to this man 'Go' and to the other 'Come'—that you had not found time to run down to see us!"

"You forget," said Phil, gently pulling out his watch, as if it would tell him the day of the week, "but this is Saturday afternoon."

"Why, what difference does that make, Phil," she said, smiling past the to-and-fro wave of the broom branch before her dancing eyes.

Phil had come to the door now, and they stood face to face. But they did not shake hands. It did not seem worth while. They were all to each other that that meant, years and years ago. Yet, though they did not know it, their fate, like that of many others who have ascended mountains, great and small "stood tiptoe upon a little hill."

Phil did not think of asking her to come inside. In the outer office there was only his stool, and the res-tative cane-chair on which her father had sat. Somehow that seemed to be insufficient accommodation. Besides, Phil had a delicate mind, and he did not consider the white pigeons which shovled and squabbled so dis-

It had not been my purpose to re-enter politics, but since ac-have strongly suggested my candidacy for an office, my competence for which is known to the public. I am not seeking this office basis of personal merit, soliciting the vote of every man who believes I will fill the position with competence. Traveling is diffi-

STATE PARKS

(Jefferson County Union.)

The senior editor of the Union was permitted to accompany the state park commission last week to the region of Fish Creek in Door county, where it is proposed to establish a state park of 4,000 acres. The party was generously offered the use of his yacht, Bonita, by Senator Stephenson to take them from Marinette across Green Bay to Fish Creek.
Our visit was a revelation to us as well as many others of the exquisite beauty of that region. It ought to be owned by the people of the state at whatever cost, so that all may have a right to enjoy it. Wisconsin has some wonderful beauty spots.
Now is the time to establish the right of the whole people to their future ownership and enjoyment.
Now is the time to preserve to future generations the beauty of the unspoiled nature that now exists.

The idea of establishing state parks in some of the most romantic regions of the state is one that we very much favor for it can be done now at a comparatively small expense. Some of the eastern states are attempting to do this work and they find that private parties have secured property rights that cannot be changed except at enormous expense.

Wisconsin has many elements for future greatness in every way. If a wise policy prevails she may become the pleasure resort of the whole nation. Let us establish a number of state parks while we can.

NORTH SIDE WANTS A REAL BATH HOUSE

DON'T LIKE IDEA OF RICKETY
VOTING BOOTHS

CITY SHOULD BE LIBERAL

Bay Residents to a Section of Town Which Does Not Receive Any too Much Consideration

It is understood that the city is contemplating using the old voting booths for the permanent bath on the North side next spring. The residents who have waited patiently for the permanent bath are somewhat wrought up over the matter, as they had expected a nice bath house, as implied in the city's promise, instead of a few dilapidated voting booths, that have seen a quarter of a century of wear and tear by the elements and hard usage by anyone who chose to disfigure them.

"Any structure that could possibly be manufactured out of them would be little better than an eyesore and mar the landscape," said one resident today, "and the people will undoubtedly make a strenuous effort to see if something better cannot be had than an old worn-out voting booth for a bath-house."

The Progressive league will undoubtedly take the matter up and see if the bath cannot be a permanent institution with a bath-house that the residents can be proud of.

HAND SMASHED BY COUPLER-BAR

Will Summers, crew foreman in the Milwaukee yards on the North Side, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock while making a coupling in the yards. He held the lifting bar on one of the patent couplers and when the cars bumped the bar of one car was longer than he had supposed and the force drove the bar through the fleshy part of his hand. Dr. Sutor was called and an examination of the wound showed that no bones were broken and the wound though painful was not serious. He will be laid up for a couple of weeks.

BOY TRAMP FINDS CABOOSE ON FIRE

BURSTS OPEN DOOR TO NOTIFY SLEEPING MEN

IS PENNED IN WITH FLAMES

And Excited Lad Then Plunges Through Window to Escape—Men Save Papers and Clothes

A peculiar accident occurred at New Lisbon on the Milwaukee railway yesterday. One of the lamps in the caboose exploded and a boy who was stealing a ride a few cars ahead noticed the fire coming out of the cupola of the caboose and thinking that the men inside were asleep he decided to awaken them by knocking on the door. Receiving no answer he tried the door and found it locked. He then broke the door in and found the caboose empty. In the excitement he did not notice the spring lock on the door and it slammed shut and refused to be opened.

The lad became scared at being locked in the blazing caboose, and plunged through a window, severely cutting his hands. He ran to the depot and alarmed the railroad men by shouting fire. When he calmed down sufficiently to give a description of what had occurred the men hurried out to find the caboose blazing fiercely. They were in time however, to save the way bills and one of the brakemen saved a $25 suit of clothes that he had in the car, so the loss was slight.

The caboose was badly damaged, however, and had to be sent to the shops to be repaired.

SEASON FOR TROUT CLOSES ON MONDAY

The trout season will close in Minnesota and Wisconsin next Monday, Aug. 31. To many local fishermen it seems that the season should be held open until Sept. 15, but the fish commission's doctors seem to think the spawning season is on about Sept. 1. Whether they are thoroughly posted on the subject is a question. Some of the best authorities declare that the trout do not spawn until the latter part of October, and one observer, who lives on a northern Wisconsin trout lake, says they do not spawn until a month later.

JOHN BAKER CONFINED IN ASYLUM CANNOT TALK

And Nods and Makes Motions When Asked Questions About Himself and His Relatives

Chief of Police John Weber has received a letter from Dr. Arthur Kilbourne, superintendent of the Rochester, Minn., state hospital requesting information regarding John Baker, who is now a patient at the hospital.

The authorities state that they have a patient by the name of John Baker, who is an unknown, but by means of signs and nodding his head he has seemed very positive that he has a brother by the name of James Baker who is employed as a switchman at Medary Junction, also another brother who gets his mail in La Crosse and works on a farm about four miles out of the city. From the description the farm is south or southeast of the city. The man is unable to talk and apparently is an imbecile and he is also unable to write. He shows occasional signs of intelligence, however.

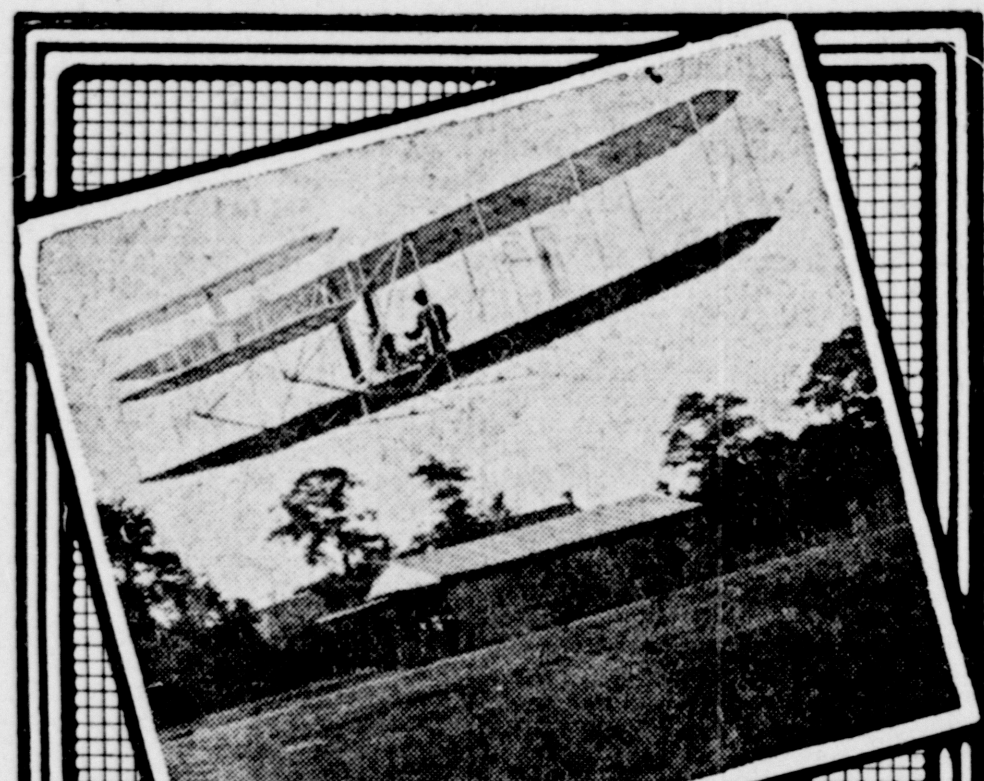

He was sent to the hospital from Minneapolis in July, having been found at Minneapolis July 3 wandering around unknown. The local police are now investigating the case and hope to find some trace of the man's relatives in the city.

REYNOLDS BOUND OVER FOR TRIAL

NORTH SIDE "PEEPER" MUST ANSWER SWED BLACKMAIL CHARGE

CALLED INSANE AT WINONA

Minnesota City Authorities Chased Him Out for Same Tricks He Has Performed Here

Charles E. Reynolds, the "peeper," the north side man charged with blackmail, was this morning bound over to the September term of circuit court for trial. According to evidence introduced Reynolds wrote letters to various young ladies on the north side vowing his love for them and on many occasions the letters contained offers of marriage. He also is charged with writing letters to C. L. Lien and other north side merchants in an effort to obtain money. No defense was offered and he will be tried on the charge of blackmail during the September term.

Mr. Leigh Toland, manager of Toland's Business university, testified as an expert on handwriting and said that in his opinion the letters written to Mr. Lien and the letters which the defendant admitted writing himself were alike in the formation of various characters and that in his opinion the same man had written both letters. Rev. A. L. Wood, of the Caledonia M. E. church testified to the queer actions of the man around his church and said that he had received complaints from numerous girls in his congregation of overtures made to them by Reynolds.

Insane in Winona
The Independent, published at Winona, tells the following story of Reynolds' similar operations there, where he formerly lived:

"Reynolds resided in Winona until last December when, at the demand of the judge, he left for La Crosse. His trouble down the river is merely a repetition of his practices in Winona.

and distressing practices was that he constantly whistled—from early morning until late at night. He was often seen about the streets of Winona standing forlornly on some corner but whistling softly solely for his own amusement. It was the general belief that he was not of sound mind.

"However, Charlie's ability to make music to amuse his rambling mind was by no means the worst of his character. It was charged openly that he was a real 'Jack the Peeper' and the police department received numerous calls from young ladies in that neighborhood asking that he be arrested. Answered promptly each call failed to bring him in for he always succeeded in making his escape before apprehended, although there was little doubt in the minds of the police he was the fellow doing the peeping. After his removal from the city there were no further complaints made to the police.

The Last Straw
"Reynolds' character shrdlut shrdl "Reynolds' local career came to a close when it was established beyond a doubt that he had written to a prominent local young lady, telling of his love for her and asking for her hand in marriage. The recipient of this warm love missive from a man whom she had never met, reported the matter to her father and he accordingly made complaint to the officials and the whistler was brought to jail. The officials thought he was of unsound mind and he was arraigned in the probate court before Judge D. E. Vance to be examined as to his sanity on December 10th last.

The examining physicians Drs. D. B. Pritchard and L. H. Munger, adjudged him insane after the hearing but it was not deemed wise to have him sent to the Rochester hospital and upon his promise to leave the city at once sentence was suspended by Judge Vance. A few days later he left for La Crosse, where he is now again in similar trouble and it is said he may have to answer to the charge of blackmail."

ALBERT BELLERUE NABBED BY WARDEN

Seeing a duck hung in a milk house where he had gone to purchase a glass of milk Deputy Game Warden G. O. Mannell of Sparta secured evidence upon which to arrest Albert Bellerue, Jr., of this city.

Warden Mannell is working with the La Crosse county warden, George Kingsley, and the two had gone on a trip up the river. When they arrived at the Dixon farm, located opposite Dakota, Mr. Mannell stopped for a glass of milk. Going into the milk house he saw the duck hung in the top of the house with a string. He cut the duck down and after questioning the owner of the farm found that it had been killed by Albert Bellerue of this city.

LEIGH TOLAND IS CALLED AS EXPERT

In the hearing given Charles E. Reynolds of the North Side, this morning, who is charged with writing threatening letters to young women and business men of the North Side, the services of a handwriting expert were necessary, as there was some question as to the various letters introduced in evidence.

Mr. Leigh Toland, manager of the Toland Business School here, was called by the state as an expert on handwriting, and after examining the samples submitted declared that those denied by Reynolds were written by the same man as those of which Reynolds admitted authorship. The testimony of Mr. Toland was important to the state in enabling the formation of a chain of evidence about Reynolds sufficiently strong to hold the prisoner to circuit court.

WINONA BOARD IS

SECRETARY OF ORGANIZATION THERE MADE VISIT

INTERVIEWED CIVIC BODIES

Makes Report to Winona Board of Trade on Opinions Secured by Interviews in La Crosse

Winona board of trade, which is now quite an active organization and has at present well formed plans for landing a box factory, has been investigating the methods of the La Crosse civic body. Whether for the purpose of emulation or for profiting by our example, is not openly stated, but Secretary W. J. Whipple of the Winona board, in making report to his organization of his work, devoted considerable time to a trip he made to La Crosse for pointers. Concerning this trip and its results Secretary Whipple reported as follows.

What La Crosse Is Doing.

"On the 10th day of July your secretary visited the city of La Crosse with the view of securing information from the secretary of the board of trade of that city. Herewith is a summary report of my observations:

"Mr. R. Calvert, who has been its former secretary for twenty-five years, with whom I am personally acquainted, was the first person interviewed. Asking him the methods which have been adopted by the board of trade during his term of office, he replied: 'During my service in office several methods have been adopted. First, was raising bonuses by subscription to induce the location of industries. So far as our experience went it was in the end found more harmful than beneficial, in every instance but one. In this case the parties had some capital of their own and were bona fide in the presentation of their proposition of affairs, where persons were asking for bonuses, it was usually ascertained, their inducements to receive a consideration chiefly consisted in patents, or a certain amount of old machinery, which they desired to capitalize far beyond its intrinsic value, and not commensurate with the bonus which they expected to receive. These bonus-seekers generally belong to the visionary class of men who do not possess those qualifications which should characterize good business management.

"Some industries have located here bringing a certain amount of capital, and have established themselves by the aid of La Crosse capital taking stock in the concern—some of which have proven successful.

"Some times it was found more difficult work to prevent what was considered an undesirable or imprudent, so-called, enterprise out of the town, than to get a good one to locate with us.

"Many months, perhaps a year or more may have been devoted in time, labor and anxiety, by the secretary and the members of committees, who may have co-operated with him, to add something for the material benefit of the town, without satisfactory results. Then, at other times, through the instrumentality of the board of trade excellent results have been accomplished where least expected.

"The position of secretary in a town of this population is not an enviable one. Not only the secretary, but the board of trade is always open to criticism, and mankind is inclined to indulge in adverse criticism rather than worthy praise.

Financial Methods.

"Your secretary also saw Mr. A. A. Bentley, the present secretary of the board of trade of that city, from whom he gleaned some information regarding the collection of funds etc. He stated that more than one method had been tried to obtain financial sustenance for its support. At one time they enlarged its membership, admitting laboring men, fixing their annual dues at the nominal sum of $1.00, while dues for others was fixed at $5 a year. This system did not prove satisfactory. The laboring men took but little interest in the proceedings of the board—the meetings being held but once a month of the year—omitting July and August. And it required more time to collect these small dues than the value of the total sum of these collections.

"The 'Touch' System.

"Now they have established annual dues at $5 per membership, and whenever the exchequer gets low and the occasion demands it they solicit subscriptions from whom they believe susceptible to the 'touch.' He said the enthusiasm among its members was spasmodic, and really but

It is with the greatest pleasure that we announce to the women of this city and vicinity this first Opening Fur Display. It embodies the most exclusive and acceptable ideas in furs of every character, gathered from the fur fashion centers of Europe and our own country. It is of extreme importance to those who desire accurate information regarding what is proper fur dress for the winter season — 1908-09. We are perfectly conscious that the greater number of people purchasing furs do not understand qualities thoroughly. For this particular reason we ask you to come in and examine our furs which at the same time will be most thoroughly explained so that you can make your selection more wisely. Special measurement orders will be taken at this time for any kind of fur garment at prices that can not be duplicated later in the season. We desire very much to have you attend this display, and whether you buy or not you are perfectly welcome. We assure all who do attend that they will be delighted and interested with our excellent fur display. Among the assortment you will find the following:

SCHOOLBOY'S FACE IS LONGER TODAY

Sunday and Monday free—then the books and decline and grinding of school days.

The wheels of the educational system of La Crosse have begun to grind, in a preliminary way, and all preparations have practically been completed for the opening of the public and many of the parochial schools of the city on next Tuesday morning, Sept. 1. With the day nearly here many of the teachers and pupils have returned to the city to be on hand at the opening session.

The school-boy will soon look back longingly to his summer days of vacation and he is returning sunburnt and much profited by his period of rest. Nevertheless, as the accursed day nears his countenance loses that glowing smile as he realizes he must begin his duties in earnest within a very few days.

FLOOD VICTIMS IN NEED OF RATIONS

FOOD IS SHORT IN TERRITORY VISITED BY CLOUDBURST

DEATH LIST MAY REACH 40

Town of Folsom is Practically Wiped Off the Map and it is Strange No More Were Killed

EL PASO, Aug. 29.—Eight more bodies of victims of the cloudburst and flood at Folsom, N. M., have been recovered, according to reports today. None were identified. The list of known dead is placed at 23, while it is feared the casualties will reach 40.

Searchers are today delving into the wreckage of ruined homes and down the stream for more victims. Bodies were recovered as far as 15 miles below Folsom and it is feared many more are buried in the sands along the course of the Cimarron river.

Folsom, formerly a thriving town of 3,500, was practically wiped out of existence. Scarcely a house was left undamaged. The great need of the people today is food. The town supplied were ruined or carried away by the torrent. Relief is being sent from the surrounding towns.

That more persons did not lose their lives is regarded as miraculous. A torrent, 8 feet deep, swept down the Cimarron river when the town was asleep, carrying destruction upon the camp. Five traveling men, names unknown, who were asleep in the hotel that was destroyed, perished. It will probably be a week before the entire list of victims will be completed.

ORIGIN OF "EGYPT."

How the Name Came to Be Applied to Southern Illinois.

The year 1824 was very wet. Heavy rains fell frequently. Corn on flatlands was a total failure. This year the weevil destroyed the wheat after it was harvested. The next year, 1825, there was a remarkable growth of thistles on the branch bottoms. The winter of 1830-1 was known as the winter of deep snow. The snow was of a depth of from two and a half to three feet on a level. It drifted much and was very destructive to fruit trees. The weather was intensely hot. Both in 1831 and 1832 the early frosts so injured the corn as to entirely render it worthless for almost any purpose.

During the years between and including 1824-32, so nearly corresponding to the years of famine in the days of Pharaoh and his ruler, as he made Joseph to be, the people of Illinois, depended upon the southern part of the state for so much grain, particularly corn, that people in remembrance of the Bible story began to call the part of the state which had been so helpful in time of need Egypt.—Albion Journal.

Would Be Missed.

"I know what you'll miss most about us," said her neighbor, who was moving from the building. "our telephone, that you have been using. I shall never forget that night you called us up from somewhere where you had concluded to spend the night, that you had left your flat unlocked and were afraid there was a burglar in it. Would we go and see if there was a burglar in it?"

"Wasn't that a nice thing to ask us to do? Here I had to get out of bed, wake up the hired girl and the elevator man and the janitor and go look for that burglar in your flat! And after all the trouble he wasn't there."

"No, you'll never get such neighbors as we are again," such obliging, burglar hunting neighbors—never in the world!—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

NEW YORK HONORS OLYMPIC HEROES

giant Californian, coming next.

Prostrations in Crowd.

All along the line of march the buildings were gaily decorated. People who had been on the scene since early in the morning lined the streets through which the marchers passed. Around the city hall every available inch was filled. There were many prostrations and ambulances were kept busy. A number of women in the crowd at the city hall were overcome in the crush.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—From every part of New York today soldiers and civilians hurried towards Forty-sixth street and Broadway where the monster parade in honor of the returned athletes of Olympic games, started. All the rest of New York and thousands of people from all parts of the country hurried in the same direction to see the pageant. The streets through which the parade passes, was gaily decorated. The crowd was enthusiastic and cheered every organization as it appeared.

The parade was headed by Grand Marshal George W. Wingate and staff. In the first division marched the regulars, marines and sailors. In the second, was the national guards and the Naval militia and in the third the Irish volunteers.

The fourth division was composed of automobiles, carrying the members of the teams representing America at the Olympiad. Autos lined the side street near the starting point and when the crowd caught sight of them there was a demonstration. The fifth division was composed of athletic clubs and in the sixth members of the Y. M. C. A. marched. The other division was made up of athletic associations, bicycling associations and clubs and members of public school athletic leagues.

Woman Saved Them.

To the heroism of one woman, who gave her own life to save others, the residents of Folsom, the town wiped out by the cloudburst Thursday night, owe the fact that two score instead of hundreds were killed in the disaster. Mrs. S. J. Rooke, telegraph operator at Folsom, was the heroine of the catastrophe. Standing at her post she alarmed the sleeping townspeople and enabled hundreds to flee to safety. When the office was washed away, she perished within.

HAINS WANTS HIS FREEDOM OR DEATH

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Captain Hains, the slayer of William E. Annis, declared today he wanted to be fully exonerated or go to the electric chair.

"If what I did was wrong," he said, "I am willing to accept punishment like a man. I don't want to go to Matteawan. I was responsible for the act; no one else was."

"I want to be fully exonerated and acquitted, or go to the electric chair."

He declares the insanity plea is abhorrent and will not allow such a defense to be made.

FRENCH TROOPERS CAPTURE PIRATES

SAIGON, Indo-China, Aug. 29.—Advices received here today report the capture of 250 Chinese pirates by a column of French troops. The pirates were put ashore at Tonquin, a French possession, and it is probable that the entire number will be executed. In the fighting preceding the capture, thirty-nine pirates and eleven soldiers were killed.

STRIKE FEELING ACUTE

WINNIPEG, Aug. 29.—The Canadian Pacific strikers are being paid off today with money sent from the international headquarters in the United States. It is said that $100,000 was distributed at Winnipeg alone. Feeling is becoming acute through the west over the strike situation. Many leading papers are urging the company officials to make concessions in view of the fast movement of crops now on. The officials maintain a policy of silence, merely insisting that they have all the men needed.

W. A. LARNED AGAIN WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 29.—William A. Larned, of Summit, N. J., for the fourth time won the national singles tennis championship, defeating Challenger Beals C. Wright today. The score was 6-1, 6-2, 8-6.

Albert Bellerue, Jr., arrested for shooting ducks out of season, was fined $20 and costs by Judge Brindley today.

SPERRY VISITS GOVERNOR

Official Landing Will Not Take Place Until Monday, But Courtesy Is Exchanged

MELBOURNE, Aug. 29.—With a dinner given tonight by Sir Reginald Talbot, governor of Victoria, to Admiral Sperry and the senior officers of the American fleet, the round of festivities in honor of the ships and men that have come half around the globe, was started.

For a solid week, or until the fleet hoists anchor on Sept. 5 and sails for Albany, there will be something doing all the time.

While the "official landing" will not be made until Monday, the entrance of the fleet into Hobson Bay showed them that Melbourne is going to outdo Auckland and Sydney in proving the warmth of Australia's greeting.

It is estimated that 250,000 people saw the fleet as it swung into the bay. There was the boom of saluting guns, the shriek of whistles, the hoarse shouts of thousands and the roar of miscellaneous noise to let the sailors and officers know that they were welcome. Immediately on anchoring, Admiral Sperry paid an official visit to Gov. Talbot, who later returned the visit aboard the Connecticut.

READY TO START BALLOON RACES

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 29.—The work of inflating the six big balloons starting this afternoon at Driving Park in the international race, under the auspices of the Aero club of Columbus and the Federation of American Aero clubs, progressed well and all the big bags were beginning to assume shape early this morning. All the pilots, passengers and assistants who arrived last night, were out at the grounds early today watching the work of inflation. The pilots' parade will be held this afternoon and at 4 o'clock the balloons will be released at 5 minute intervals.

CARGILL'S UTO HITS FARMER'S RIG

A big touring car owned by W. S. Cargill hit a rig belonging to Otto Nickolai, a farmer, living in Mormon Coulee, and smashed one of the front wheels. The accident occurred on the corner of Twelfth and Market streets as Nickolai was coming into town with butter and eggs for the market. When the horses were quieted and the damage ascertained, Nickolai proceeded to the Voigt carriage works, and a new wheel was purchased.

NEW EDDY CLEWS FOUND

WOOSTER, O., Aug. 29.—Although all clues which might have led to the recovery of Ralph Eddy, missing fiancé of Miss Lucy Warren, have been exhausted, search for the young man has not been given up.

Two new clues were taken up from Wooster today. The one concerns a mysterious telephone message received by Capt. Robert E. Eddy last night, and the other the body of an unidentified man found in a box car at Waukegan, Ill., who answers Eddy's description.

Last night at midnight the telephone in the Eddy home rang and the anxious father arose to answer it.

A man at the other end of the wire said he had good reasons for believing that Ralph was in a Chicago hospital, then slapped up the receiver.

CRAWFORD OPENS FIGHT

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—It was announced at the republican national headquarters today that Governor Coe I. Crawford of South Dakota, who was nominated for United States senator at the recent primaries in that state, will open the republican campaign at the state fair grounds at Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 3rd.

TAFT TOLD TO STUDY UP ON BANK IDEA

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—In a New York dispatch to the Record-Herald Walter Wellman says:

"Judge Taft's reference the other day to a trial the bank deposit plan had some years ago in New York state is commented upon by most of the papers. Mr. Taft was correct, in part at least, in the principle he sought to illustrate, but was not accurate in his details. The New York law of years ago was not, as he supposed, a mutual deposit guarantee plan. It was put into operation as long ago as 1829 and was a mutual bank underwriting of note issues, and at first had nothing whatever to do with deposits. For a number of years this 'safety fund,' as it was called, worked very well, and even in the panic of 1837 none of the banks that were in the 'safety fund' went down. But about 1840 several banks failed, and the law was tinkered so that a certain per cent of the accumulated fund could be applied to the payment of other creditors than the holders of notes. The fund proved insufficient to meet these new demands, and the whole scheme came to an end. Hence the New York Commercial is justified in saying the New York experiment of seventy to eighty years ago affords little information upon the present problem, though it is hardly justified in its warning to Judge Taft to study these questions more carefully before attempting to speak upon them."

FUR DISPLAY AT THE FASHION SHOP

Reiman & Torndt, proprietors of the new women's garment store opposite the Cathedral on Main street, have just received their new stock of furs. Mr. Torndt says "It's going to be a great season for furs and I have made purchases accordingly. While we are new in the field, I am sure that with the elegant stock I selected and priced so reasonably we will enjoy a splendid business this season." Mr. Torndt is an expert on furs, and had many years experience buying for a large department store. Every woman in La Crosse is invited to inspect the showing whether intending a purchase or not.

QUIETLY WED AND SURPRISE FRIENDS

Mr. George Larsen and Miss Gusie Eggan have precipitated a quite surprise on their friends in the city, and the affair just transpired this morning, when they arrived home from a week's honeymoon at Milwaukee. Mr. Larsen and Miss Eggan were quietly married last Saturday evening at 9 o'clock at the home of Rev. Harry Faville of the First Congregational church and immediately after the ceremony left for the east. They returned this morning and will make their home with the bride's parents, 1114 Charles street temporarily. The bride for a number of years has been the stenographer at the Singer Machine office, while the groom is employed with the Wisconsin Telephone company.

GERMAN BOAT MAY BE SPY

LONDON, Aug. 29.—British naval officers in charge of the torpedo boat maneuvers on the Tyne, were thrown into a rage today by the appearance in their midst of the German torpedo boat "D 5." Suspecting the German boat to be a spy, it was stopped and boarded by the British officers, demanding explanation from the commander. It was said the boat had suddenly become disabled and had put into the Tyne for repairs. They disclaimed any intention of spying upon the British, and for proof showed the boat's disability.

The presence of the German boat ended the maneuvers until Monday, when the German was ordered to leave. The affair caused bitter feeling and England will probably ask an official statement from Germany.

WRECK AT ABERDEEN

ABERDEEN, S. D., Aug. 29.—A Milwaukee road train, westbound from St. Paul, was wrecked 25 miles east of here this morning. Engineer Taylor of Minneapolis was badly scalded. The fireman escaped by jumping. The engine jumped the track and fell into the ditch.

RED CROSS TO RESCUE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29.—The National Red Cross, through its various branches, today issued an appeal for contributions for the relief of the southern flood sufferers. The action followed a telegram received from the president of the South Carolina branch of the Red Cross, as follows: "Millions are lost, and the end is not yet. The Red Cross might help."

WEDDED WEDNESDAY.

On Wednesday morning, Aug. 26, Miss Laura Billings and Mr. John H. Suggan, both of La Crosse, were united in marriage at St. Mary's parsonage by Rev. Dean White. After the ceremony was performed, the bride and groom left for St. Paul. On their return they will be at home at 909 South Tenth street.

WEDDING OF MISS ABBY BRAYTON AND DR. RUEIDIGER.

Miss Abby L. Brayton, formerly of this city, and Dr. Gustave Ferdinand Rueidiger of Grand Forks, were married Aug. 20 in Seattle, Wash. The ceremony took place in the apartments of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Knox Brayton, at Rialto Court, Royalston avenue, and was performed by Rev. McLaughlin of Tacoma, formerly of La Crosse, who used the simple and impressive ring ceremony. The rooms were decorated with an abundance of sword ferns and sweet peas of pale lavender and purple shades, and white asters. The bridal couple stood against a background of ferns which were arranged to form a broad panel between two windows. This panel reached to the moulding and was

Plain Facts About The Hair

It is the duty of every one who is interested in hair preservation to learn enough about the subject to tell whether an advertisement for a hair remedy is reasonable or unreasonable. In this connection, the United States Post Office department has begun a much needed campaign against false and misleading statements in advertisements in general. While this work is highly commendable and should be greatly extended, still at the same time it tends to paternalism rather than to personal self-reliance. IF YOU know that the claims for a hair remedy are unreasonable and untrue, that knowledge will save you money and prevent disappointment.

The trouble lies in the fact that certain over ambitious Proprietors employ advertising writers who do not know the composition of the remedies, they write about, and even if they did, they are not expected to know the therapeutic action of the various ingredients. Two very familiar and oft repeated statements are, that the hair must be watered and fed just like a plant, and that the color of the hair, once destroyed, can be restored, by natural process. While both of these statements are false in every particular, it requires some little knowledge of the hair follicle to understand why the statements are false.

The hair follicle is a pear shaped sack in the scalp that holds the hair root. At the bottom of the hair follicle and extending up into it for a short distance, is a nipple shaped projection that remains in the scalp when a hair root is forcibly pulled out. This projection is the hair papilla from which the hair "root" grows. The continuous addition to the bottom of the hair root, forces the hair proper out through the scalp.

The hair papilla is surrounded by the hair root, which thus takes a bulbous form. Above the hair root or bulb—which occupies about three-fourths of the entire follicle—is the neck of the hair follicle, below which the most penetrating fluids known to Medical Science can not penetrate. Therefore, the story of feeding the starved and impoverished hair roots with an external application is all a myth. The short portion of the hair follicle above its neck opens somewhat like a funnel and is filled with the outer scalp skin. Opening into this outer portion are the highly important oil or sebaceous glands which, from their location, are most exposed to disease. When these oil glands become infected with a certain microbe growth (the cause of dandruff) there is a disease and finally hair death. Fortunately, the outer portion of the hair follicle can be treated by carefully rubbing into the scalp a suitable remedy. What remedy should be used? Manifestly one that will destroy the growth that causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair.

Newbro's Herpicide is the first remedy that was prepared for the particular purpose of destroying this invisible vegetable growth. In fact, it is called the "ORIGINAL" remedy that kills the dandruff germ. Newbro's Herpicide was not made until Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany (ask your Doctor about him) discovered that dandruff is a highly contagious disease caused by a microbe. The almost marvelous success of Newbro's Herpicide has caused advertising writers to claim germicidal properties for other hair remedies, many of which were on the market years before Prof. Unna's discovery. Do you think that this new claim for old remedies is a reasonable one? Remember, that the hair gets its life, color, and strength direct from the blood, and that good blood, deep breathing, and sunlight, favor hair development. Outdoor exercise, to insure free circulation in the scalp, also scalp massaging for the same purpose, are very helpful. Worry, indigestion, and sedentary habits oppose hair growth, while the dandruff germ will actually destroy the hair, unless it is eradicated and kept out of the scalp with Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide is delightfully cooling and refreshing to the scalp, and almost marvelous results sometimes follow its continued use. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

TOBACCO BUYERS INVADE VICINITY

There are a large number of tobacco buyers in this section at the present time arranging for the 1908 crop. It is understood as high as 10 and 12c has been offered, but most of the farmers are holding off until the crop is harvested. A few days more will see much of the weed in this vicinity harvested and out of harm's way by frost.

Summing up its review of news and conclusions on the situation the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter says: "They're off! The race for buying the new crop while yet growing in the fields started Tuesday in the Vernon county district, is the news brought in on the wires. The bare announcement that the ball is opened is enough to start buyers scurrying in that direction, and possibly by this time half a hundred men are out riding the country. To what extent this hotfoot campaign will reach remains to be seen. The prices reported to be offered—from 8 to 10 cents for wrappers and binder grades—are not so especially attractive as to cause growers to climb over one another to sign contracts, but pretty good as a starter. With the unpleasant remembrances of the mistake of 1906 so fresh in mind, it appears to us as passing strange why any dealer should care to jump into the field at this time and contract for immature tobacco that is subject to so many disasters before it reaches a time for delivery. This too, in a section of the

where the crop is to be the deep a profit. But how along since drouth! That that follow and vigor them forward tobacco effect eradicated the very likely to out any, crop in this make an the fields of the

MOSQUITO BITE; BLOOD POISON

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Aug. 29.—That it is a dangerous practice to scratch a mosquito bite with a knife has been discovered by Emanuel Grosz, a resident of Parkston. He nearly lost his life as the result of utilizing a knife blade for that purpose. The contact of the blade of the knife with the spot where the beak, or bill, of the mosquito penetrated his skin caused blood poisoning and for a time it was feared his arm would have to be amputated in order to save his life.

WRECK DOCK FOR REVENGE.

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 29.—The new steel dock of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, at Two Harbors and the machinery used in constructing the dock was damaged to the extent of $15,000 last night by unknown men, supposed to be working their revenge on the American Bridge company for being what is commonly called an "open shop" concern. The men escaped without being detected.

The parties to the plot are supposed to have made their way to Two Harbors in a launch which was stolen from Superior early this week and which was later brought back to Superior and beached.

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., Aug. 29.—The automobile garage of Ball & Stalpers was burned. The loss is $15,000 with no insurance. The Stoltz Lumber company suffered a loss of $1,000 fully insured. The fire was caused by a short circuit of wires on an automobile exploding a gasoline tank. Twenty machines were saved, but all machinery, valued at $7,000, was lost. The garage was one of the largest in the state. Two machinists, Raymond and Murphy, working on a machine at the time of the explosion were neither injured.

BABY BOY HAD ITCHING HUMOR

Which Broke Out in Different Places —Nothing Would Help Him—Mother Almost in Despair—Skin Quickly Healed Without a Scar and Trouble Has Never Returned

SINCE USING CUTICURA MOTHER GIVES IT PRAISE

"Several months ago, my little boy, now two and a half years old, began to break out with itching sores. I began to doctor him, and as soon as I got them healed up in one place they would break out in another. I was almost in despair. I could not get anything that would help him. One evening I read a testimonial from a lady who had cured her little boy with Cuticura. I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and after using them three times, the sores commenced to heal. He is now well, and not a scar is left on his body. They have never returned nor left him with bad blood, as one would think. Cuticura Remedies are the best I have ever tried, and they are surely great. I shall always have them in the house, handy, and shall highly recommend them to any one who is suffering likewise. I cannot give them too much praise. Mrs. William Geeding, 102 Washington St., Attica, Ind., July 22, 1907."

ITCHING TORMENTS

From little patches of eczema, tetter, milk crust, psoriasis, etc., the skin, scalp, or hands of infants, children, or adults are instantly relieved and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, assisted, when necessary, by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. Cuticura Remedies are guaranteed absolutely pure.

MERLE D. VINCENT

Merle D. Vincent, one of the two republican members of the last Colorado legislature who refused to sanction the nomination and election of United States Senator Simon Guggenheim, is fighting desperately for re-election in his Colorado district. He is declaring to his constituents that Senator Guggenheim and his friends are attempting to encompass his defeat because of his refusal to stand for Guggenheim when the latter was seeking his seat in the upper house of congress. In a public address in the city of Paoia, Colo., this week, Vincent flayed Guggenheim in unmeasured terms, denouncing him as an enemy to the public and people of Colorado and dramatically asserting he is out to defeat Vincent and Matthews, the two republican legislators who walked out of the state legislative caucus and refused to sanction the Guggenheim elevation.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

NORWEGIAN-DANISH SINGERS OPEN FEST

CONVENE AT THE AUDITORIUM AT MINNEAPOLIS YESTERDAY

THE PARADE WAS A FEATURE

Theodore Dahl of La Crosse Acted as Grand Marshal of the Day—First Concert Last Evening

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 29.—Dania hall was crowded yesterday with the Norwegian-Danish singers who took possession of the hall at 6:30 in the morning. Tables were laid on the first floor, where the ladies' committee entertained the visitors with a light lunch. Old friends greeted one another, while the banners of the various societies were ranged along the walls so as to make a telling color scheme, when contrasted with the white caps that the active singers wore.

The executive committee was kept busy distributing official souvenirs to the singers, and the secretaries of out of town societies had to secure badges for the members of their groups.

The parade that started from Dania hall on Fifth and Cedar streets was one of the features of the day's doings. Theodore Dahl acted as grand marshal, with O. P. Nash and S. P. Eggan acting as assistant grand marshals. The parade started at 12:30 from the hall, going directly to Washington avenue, up to Thirteenth avenue, to Third street, down that thoroughfare to First avenue, to Newspaper row. Here the singers were photographed, then marched up Nicollet to the Auditorium where the ninth biennial saengerfest was formally opened.

The program for the opening started with the address of welcome that was delivered to the singers, by L. S. Swenson, late minister to Denmark. Following this the Twin City singers sang Grieg's "Saenerhilsen." Erik Oulle directed. The prologue for the union was delivered by Prof. W. Peterson. State Auditor Iverson welcomed the singers on behalf of Governor Johnson, who was unable to attend, as he is out of the state. The singers were welcomed to the city by Mayor Haynes. President Johnson of the union responded to the greetings on behalf of the singers, after the Twin City union had sang "Olaf Trygvasson" again under Erik Oulle's direction.

The program for the musical portion of the festival was sung at the Auditorium last evening and had as its soloists Anton Hegner, the well-known cello player, Albert Avarschoug, baritone; Bergjot Aalrud, mezzo soprano, and Beatrice Gjertsen, soprano. Mrs. J. F. Dahl was the accompanist.

OPPONENTS TO DEBATE

ALBERT LEA, Minn., Aug. 29.—The people of Clarks Grove, in this county, are to have a festival and will mix politics with the affair. T. V. Knutvold, candidate for the republican nomination for congress, and P. A. Peterson, candidate for the republican nomination for representative in the county, will represent the republican party; J. F. D. Meighen and another speaker the democratic side and P. A. Peterson and another orator the prohibition side of the questions.

QUEEN WILHELMINA AND PRES. CASTRO

THE HAGUE, Aug. 28.—The Holland-Venezuela controversy is fast approaching a climax. The demand of President Castro that Holland apologize is almost an ultimatum and it is thought that Holland will take action at once. Holland is in a very peculiar situation. Unless the Monroe doctrine should be suspended by the United States, Holland will be powerless in attempting an invasion of Venezuela on land and as Castro has no navy she would not be able to meet him on the sea. One report recently issued after a prolonged conference is to the effect that Holland will blockade the Venezuela ports and feels confident that in this manner Castro can soon be brought to terms. There is no harder country in the world to deal with than Venezuela. Castro has many friends who claim he is a second Diaz and is as able a ruler as the worthy president of Mexico has proven himself. But the fact remains that the United States, Holland and in fact every country which has come in contact with this quarrelsome republic have found it impossible to get any satisfaction through legal process. The country is in a chaotic condition. Men who are well posted on Venezuelan affairs claim that Castro is surrounded by criminals and the scum of the republic, that he has cast into jail many of the most worthy citizens of Venezuela for no apparent cause whatever except that they happen to disagree with him on some point at issue. The suffering and disease in these unsanitary prisons practically means death to every man there. So severe has been his rule that today, while he is supreme and all-powerful, it is not because of his ability, but rather because of his drastic methods, which have entirely eliminated any opposition. It is very doubtful if the United States would see fit to suspend the Monroe doctrine and unless this is done the United States would be bound to protect Venezuela against Holland.

10-YEAR-OLD GIRL DOES DEED

GEDDES, S. D., Aug. 29.—"Tell papa I got the nerve," too," said the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stols as she leaned over the muzzle of a Winchester shotgun and released the charge with a stick. Following the report, the wounded child ran out of the house and with a piteous little flutter fell dead in the dust of the road.

"I didn't think she had the nerve to do a thing like that," was the remark of John Stols when a neighbor blew off the top of his head a few weeks before. The daughter had taken the remark as a badge of bravery. Yesterday the casual opinion came back with the cruel and crushing reality. The farmer may lose his mind.

Men Past Sixty in Danger

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." O. T. Erhart.

Edwards that if the franchise allowed them to remove the tracks on Market street was refused, it was their intention to forfeit the $1,000, and thus the Main street people residing east of Sixteenth street would not get their extension, and furthermore, that the present Market street extension to the Catholic cemetery stands to be discontinued during the winter and only run during the summer, as the company is running a car to the cemetery at a loss.

Although this fact was made plain to the aldermen they still held out for the Market street extension and the meeting was finally closed with no advancement on the part of either parties.

Big Profits Unmentioned.
President Edwards' talk about "losing money" on the Market street stub did not impress the aldermen very much. The railroad did not state anything in relation to the immense profits reaped from the east car on the North side line, over and above a reasonable profit, or state in any way that this car overbalances the small loss of operation of the little Market street accommodation.

Alderman Lang made a motion that the amendment to the ordinance be adopted and this was seconded by Alderman Muenzenberger, but on being told that the vote could not stand as the aldermen were not in a regular session, Lang withdrew his motion. It was then decided to take a straw vote on the proposition, but several aldermen left their seats before this was done, and adjournment was taken.

The committee on railroads and ordinance will probably call another meeting prior to the next meeting of the council to make some report on the matter.

BIJOU OPENS WITH MONDAY MATINEE

POPULAR THEATRE, REVAMPED, IN EXCELLENT BILL

CAN RESERVE SEATS NOW

Fine Reserved Section Provided—Reserve Seats at Young's Drug Store, Third and Main Sts.

Theatre goers will be delighted by the attractive changes they will find in the Bijou when that popular play house opens the season with a matinee Monday.

The stage is transformed. It is now an artistic creation in white and gold, the design and color effects blending harmoniously with the new dressing with which the interior is provided. A nice new drop has been secured from the La Crosse Rubber Mills Co.

One of the new features which will appeal most pleasantly to the popular mind is the establishment of several seats, the pattern being of the most comfortable type and the sections being defined by neat brass railings which lend a tone of finished beauty to the place.

The great advantage of this feature rests in the ability of patrons to hereafter have their seats reserved, reservations being made at Young's drug store, corner of Third and Main streets. In the past some annoyance has resulted from the necessity for everybody to line up at the opening and take not luck in the rush for seats. Under the present plan this is not only avoided for each day, but patrons can reserve their seats for any day in the future.

The house opens with an excellent bill which Manager Copleberger has selected with fine discrimination, the act of "Monette 5," direct from the Chicago Majestic, being featured to star in a list of performances by the highest grade people.

CHAMPION WRESTLER FRANK GOTCH GOES ON STAGE

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The man who has conquered all comers on the mat and today stands out as champion of the world is about to enter a new field. Frank Gotch is going to be an actor. He is entering the work just as hard as he did the wrestling game and friends who have seen him in his rehearsals predict his success. Mr. Gotch is taking a college athlete part in "All About a Bout." The part suits him well and after three weeks' training he feels confident to appear in the spotlight before an audience of enthusiastic admirers. When seen at his new "training quarters" he was asked about his part in the acting game. He replied: "Just at present I believe I know more about the wrestling game than acting so I can talk more intelligently about it than acting." Continuing he said: "The race is not always to the swift," said some wise philosopher, and he might have added that the wrestling championship is not always won by the strongest. I am not the strongest wrestler, yet I have proven myself the strongest grappler in the world. I have been successful on the mat because I made use of my brain in all my matches as much as I used my muscle. I am a strong believer in the supremacy of brain over brawn and even over matter. My greatest ambition in life is to be over brawn and even over matter, things—my appetite, my inclinations, my temptations. So far I have succeeded fairly well."

WILL WORK STEAM ROLLER OVERTIME

Messrs. Wooley & Hanson have resumed the work of paving Sixth street with macadam. The work was delayed for a few days this week owing to an accident with the steam roller, but the roller has been fixed and the board of public works now intends to have it work evenings and Sundays for some time to catch up with the back work and enable the contractors to complete the work by the time the contract specifies.

URGES DAIRYMEN TO MAKE EXHIBIT

LA CROSSE GROWERS INVITED TO STATE FAIR

WILL SCORE AT MILWAUKEE

Math. Michels, in Charge of State Scoring, Writes Dairymen How to Send Exhibits

Dairymen of La Crosse and vicinity have received letters from Mathew Michels, in charge of Scoring exhibition at the State fair at Milwaukee next month, urging large exhibits of dairy products. The U. W. September scoring will take place in connection with the fair, and instructing dairymen as to sending exhibits the official says:

"Send all butter and cheese to reach Milwaukee not later than Saturday, September 5. Express will also be delivered on Sunday, September 6. Enter your exhibits under as many prize numbers as you can, which is allowed for the same entry fee of two dollars. In butter enter a tub or jar, and also six pounds in prints. In American cheese on Cheddar, one Flat or Daisy, one Young America or Long Horn may be entered. Also Drum or Block Swiss, Brick and Limburger.

"There will be $2,100 divided pro rata among all the scores above 92, excepting the dairy butter, which must score above 90.

"All exhibitors wishing a free season ticket to the State fair must send the entry fee of two dollars at once to John M. True, Madison, Wis. Those who do not care for the ticket, need not send the fee, as same will then be taken out of the proceeds of the exhibits.

"I want to urge all butter and cheesemakers to come in for their share of the pro rata money, as well as help to represent the dairy business of our great state at its annual fair."

BOY DROWNS IN LAKE AT MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 29.—After a desperate battle for the life of a half-drowned boy, which lasted for nearly an hour and a half, David Davis, aged 20, stamper in the Milwaukee postoffice, died of hemorrhage in the hands of experts from the life-saving station and Dr. Howard W. Halsey.

The boy was pulled out of Lake Michigan about three minutes after he sank, just north of the government breakwater, and it is believed that the inexperienced man, who worked at resuscitating him at first before the arrival of Capt. Ingar Olson and his crew piled their efforts too hard.

Davis was swimming north of the breakwater, when it is believed he was caught by the strong undertow, and as he was not an experienced or very strong swimmer, he went down before help arrived.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY ROSE TERRILL

My neighbor from across the way dropped into the rocking chair with such a beautiful smile that I had not the heart to point to the "I am busy" sign that was turned with the insulting legend conspicuously displayed. I have that sign for the benefit of my own family, but my neighbor was so much at home in the house that I did not hesitate in moments of stress to use it on her. Curious, isn't it, how impolite we can be to the ones whose opinions we value most? Sometimes I wonder if it is because we love them that we dare, or whether we know they love us well enough to forgive our shortcomings.

My neighbor was one of those people to whom life is one long adventure. She gets into and out of all kinds of curious situations and even the most trivial day's work assumes an air of being part of a serial story the end of which is in doubt. I picked up a bit of needle work that I kept for such times, tossed her a fan, and asked:

"Juts happy or has something pleasing happened?"

"I am speeding the parting guest," she beamed. "Sounds shocking, I know, but such a time as I have had! I have had an old friend and her three children for a week and I think my hospitality would have worn thin if they had staid much longer."

"Spoiled children or quarrelsome," I asked out of an experience with those particular sins.

"Neither and both at the same time. They were fairly good children when you consider that their mother was one of those women who have no self-control, and are yet good, natured, as a rule and indolent, too. They did as they pleased usually and she would say she couldn't make them mind. My fingers itched, for you know I am one of those cruel people that believe in persuading a child along the pleasant path to obedience if possible and when moral suasion fails, yanking him along the road with the aid of a keen little switch. I'm a crank on obedience and I don't think obedience means breaking a child's will in the sense that you exact slavishness. It means exactly the same thing as living within the laws, and where is the free American citizen who will let you think for a minute he is a slave to anything?" She paused in triumph, having proved her point with the fine flourish her soul loves. She is one of the gentlest creatures in the world and if she ever used the switch she spoke of it so sternly it was so long ago that her children have no memory of it. When I reminded her of this she only smiled and said:

"That's my system exactly! Teach them obedience when they are so small that they can't remember when they learned, then like good citizens of the republic, they are obedient because they know it is right. But I am wandering from the subject. These children were not disobedient to me, nor did it annoy me except I always feel sorry to see a child being defrauded of its rights to know how to live and let live in the world. It was their table manners that made my life a burden. They had never been taught to eat properly. Oh," in answer to my lifted brows, "it wasn't a case of eating with their knives. As far as their behavior at the table they were not so bad! It was that they didn't like anything that was on the table. They didn't hesitate to say so either, for one day in particular, when I had what I thought was a dainty little lunch, the oldest boy sat in a hump, looking frowningly over what had seemed a well spread table, but rapidly shrank to an arid desert before his disapproving eyes. He silently shook his head as things were passed him, and I confess I didn't say anything to him. I was ashamed of his manners, or lack of 'em, and at last his mother said: 'Aren't you going to eat anything, pettie?' Pettie! There isn't anything to eat," said the polite youth. 'Oh, yes there is,' said she sweetly. 'Perhaps you would like some cherry jam?' as she signified his desire to have some jam I had it brought, but I really didn't care whether he had anything to eat or not! And I'd just like for you to preach one of your sermons on the sins of the parent that fails to teach her children to eat what is set before them, asking no questions.' I tell my children to take some of everything their hostess offers them, when they are guests especially. The things they really like very much they can eat more of, but to try to like everything. They have learned to eat nearly all kinds of vegetables, and most meats with a relish and if they don't care for a thing they eat a little, and let it pass. But a child that is taught to be so finicky ought to be kept at home. They are too great a burden on a hostess."

New York York Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The feature of early trading in stocks this morning was renewed operations by traders for short accounts. In many cases stocks have been put out of top of yesterday's advance and have not been recovered. The effect after the first efforts to bring about further reaction was a pressure against short interests. Under orders from prominent interests identified with the general market, advance prices again took the ascendant. The result was resumption of urgent covering and by 11 o'clock Southern Pacific recorded a new high price. The rest of the list made gains of 1-2 to 1 per cent.

PRESIDENT ALFARO OF ECUADOR

GUAYAQUIL, Aug. 29.—Surrounded by his friends, President Alfaro of Ecuador is gradually sinking, and only a few days at the most remain on this earth for the head of our sister republic.

The president has suffered from heart trouble for some time. He came to Guayaquil Monday in the hope of benefitting by the climate of the coast, a decided change from the interior. His physicians extend no hope whatever for his recovery, for his attack is of such a nature that it is feared he will be unable to return to Quito and resume his executive duties.

COL. WM. V. VILAS IS BURIED TODAY

INTERMENT MADE AT FOREST HILL CEMETERY, MADISON

LA FOLLETTE PAYS TRIBUTE

Praises the Deceased in Article to the Press—Simplicity Marks the Services

(From Holmes.)
MADISON, Wis., Aug. 29.—Late this afternoon the body of Col. William F. Vilas was interred in Forest Hill cemetery near the graves of the three deceased children, Henry, Levi and Cornelia. The simple services were held at the house, the spacious mansion overlooking Lake Mendota, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. A. Ewing, pastor of the Grace Episcopal church of this city. Col. Vilas was buried in the upbuilding of this church and a few years ago in memory of his daughter donated a large hall, which is known as Cornelia Vilas Guild hall. Rev. F. A. Gilmore, pastor of the Unitarian church, read Tenyson's "Crossing the Bar." At the request of Col. Vilas there was no singing nor sermon.

Only a few wreaths of flowers were placed on the casket, which itself was plain, on the lid of which was engraved the inscription: "William F. Vilas, 1848-1908." There were no honorary pallbearers, every effort being made to make the service as unostentatious as possible. The following neighbors and friends acted as pallbearers: John M. Olin, Magnus Swenson, Burr W. Jones, William Vilas Bryant, Prof. E. T. Owen, Major F. W. Oakley, all of Madison, and Guy Nash of Grand Rapids, and Howard Morris of Milwaukee.

The following tribute was given to the press today by United States Senator R. M. La Follette: "The death of Col. Vilas closes a great career. For nearly forty years he has been a powerful influence in the life of this commonwealth. For nearly a quarter of a century he has been a man of marked eminence in the political life of the nation."

"He stood at the head of the bar in this state. He was an orator of rare eloquence and power. He was a leader in debate in the United States senate. He made an exceptional record as a cabinet minister in two of the great departments of federal government. He achieved distinction as an officer in the civil war. He was a master of every detail of business in the wide field of industrial enterprise. He gave generously of his time to the university which, to the end, he loved with all the devotion of his undergraduate years, and left the lasting impress of his strong personality upon many other state institutions. He died in his vigor and strength before he was touched with age. For fullness and roundness of achievement from any point of view it is the career of a great man. It will be long before we look upon his like again."

APPEALS FOR AID OF LIQUOR MEN

SAYS THEIR INTERESTS WOULD BE ENDANGERED BY DEFEAT

DOESN'T ASK FOR FINANCES

Congressman Kuestermann Says that the Brewers and Liquor Dealers Ought to Aid but not With Cash

APPLETON, Wis., Aug. 29.—Congressman Gustav Kuestermann is sending to the brewers and liquor dealers a personal letter in which he asks their active assistance in what he terms "is rapidly being transformed into a contest between the prohibition and liquor interests." In his letter, Mr. Kuestermann further says:

"I feel that you should be fully informed of the situation, for your interests are endangered to the same extent as my political welfare."

"My defeat would be heralded all over the country as a victory for the prohibition cause, and after that no congressman, for fear of defeat, would dare to open his mouth in favor of personal liberty in the house of representatives and no one would make an effort to stay the progress of prohibition."

"In behalf of your own interests it will be necessary for you to open a lively campaign against Minor all over your county."

"Every one of your customers should be informed of the true state of affairs."

"It will also be necessary to see that the polls are looked after on election day."

"I ask for no financial support from the liquor interests in this campaign, but I do believe that it is to your interests and to my interests to rouse all the workers at your command and to see that they lend their moral support actively and heartily to my campaign."

HOTEL MEN END THEIR CONVENTION

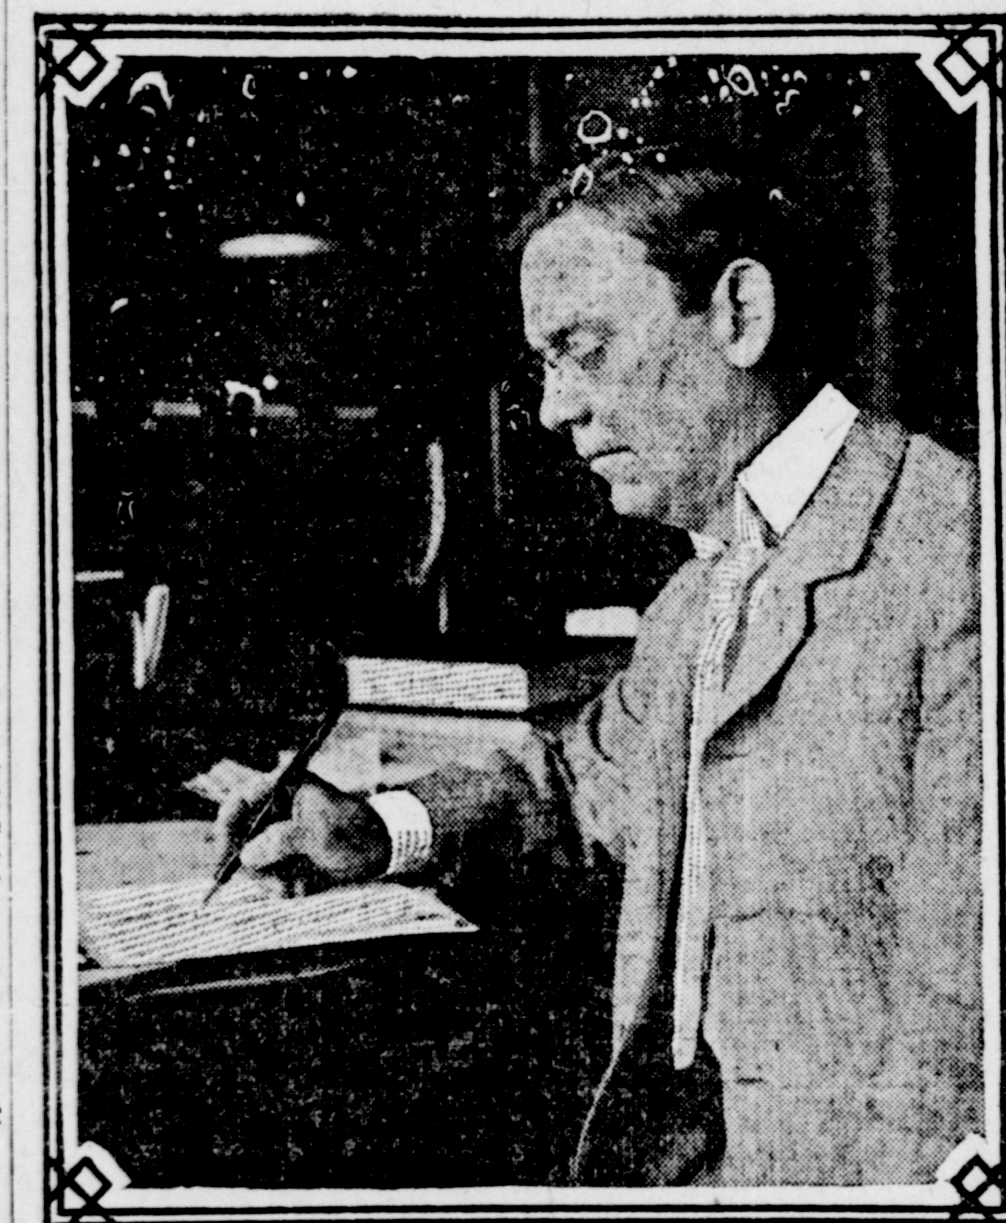

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 29.—The Wisconsin State Hotel association ended its twelfth annual convention here with a banquet at the Beaumont house. An automobile ride over the city preceded the feast. A trip on the steamer Albatross to Ridge Point was taken this morning and a picnic was held there.

LA FOLLETTE OUT FOR H. E. COCHEMS

WAUKESHA, Wis., Aug. 29.—Senator La Follette, accompanied by Henry F. Cochems, republican candidate for congress in the Fifth district, invaded Waukesha in the interests of Mr. Cochems' candidacy.

They arrived here in an automobile at 2 o'clock after a ride through the country and remained here until 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

HE WAS BOSS CARPENTER OF THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

WADE H. ELLIS

The boss carpenter of the republican platform, which was put together at Chicago has already landed near the cabinet, with every prospect of reaching one step higher should Mr. Taft possess the prerogative of the cabinet appointment on the fourth day of March next, Atty. Gen. Charles J. Bonaparte has tendered to Mr. Wade Ellis the post of assistant to the attorney general and Mr. Ellis has accepted his new duties at Washington immediately.

Mr. Ellis is at present attorney general of Ohio and his recent appointment high up in the federal department of justice is regarded as presaging his elevation to the attorney generalship in the event of Mr. Taft's election to the presidency.

Mr. Ellis will succeed Milton D. Purdy, who recently resigned to accept the appointment as a federal district judge in Minnesota. The assistant to the attorney general is especially charged with the administration of the anti-trust law.
